science then Fill find out who the third field is."

So that night when he prepared for hed he put the knives and forks and all the spoons but one in a pail, just as he had done the night before. To that one spoon he tied a string and the other end of the string he tied to one wrist. Then he put the spoon on a shelf and went to bed. Close by his head he had a little flashlight. It didn't seem to him that he had been asieep very long when he was awakened by a gentle tugging of the string at attached to his wrist. Tug, tug, tug, Very, very slowly and carefully Farmer Brown's Boy reached for the flashlight near his head. Then he pointed it toward the shelf where he had left the spoon and pressed the button. There on the shelf was a little stranger. He wore a brown coat and white waistcoat. He had a hairy tail and his hands and feet were white, His big, black eyes shone in the light with surprise and fear. In his mouth the she shoon. Farmer Brown's Boy made that spoon was dropped.

$67,578 NEW Bedroom and Dining-room Furniture --at HALF Price

The outstanding offer of the year not likely to be matched in years --- if ever

55 bedroom suites, 31 dining-room suites, and many odd pieces for the bed. room, just out of the railroad cars direct from Grand Rapids, from the shops of one of America's best furniture makers.

Of the millions of dollars of furniture we have sold, none has more closely approached the Wanamaker ideals of quality and finish. It is a remarkable thing that such high-grade furniture should be available today at half estab. lished prices.

We planned this event months ago-the taking over of the end of the season's run of goods of a leading maker. And waited. Hoped there would be plenty of the furniture, and that it would get here at a convenient time for our customers-for Easter brides-for new homes opening up in the Spring. And everything has gone just as we had hoped.

The furniture is on the floors this morning, in front of the Ninth St. elevators, and to the west-

AMPICO-in-the-Marshall & Wendell $1,975

The Incomparable AMPICO--

a boon at any price-may now be had at the prices quoted above

The AMPICO does something no other pianoforte can do-it brings into the home a faithful reproduction of the actual playing of RACHMANINOFF, the great Russian composer and pianist, and of many other masters of the pianoforte, who have recorded their playing exclusively for the AMPICO. It brings into the home a vast library of the best music-not merely conversation as expressed in the lighter selections and in dance music, but THOUGHTS expressed in music as in Rachmaninoff's compositions, the etudes of Liszt, and other great composers. Wonderful inspiration for routine-ridden workers, and for growing children. And of course, whenever you wish, you may play the AMPICO yourself, for the inclusion of the AMPICO structure within the piano in no wise interferes with the use of the instrument as a pianoforte only.

AMPICO Uprights are now $1,050 to $1,800 AMPICO Grands are now $1,975 to $3,500

Immediate delivery. Convenient terms.

Used pianos taken in part exchange, at fair valuation.
